subject connection from <person who gave me this contact>

Hi <name> -

<Name of other friend> recommended that we connect. I think we've met <insert any other connections>
Are you available to reconnect over coffee sometime in the next few weeks?

About me: I was part of management team at Digital Optics (<other person he knows> and <other person he knows> were investors) when we sold to Tessera Technologies in 2006. I stayed on with Tessera for 2 years and developed the market for a new cell phone camera technology there with Nokia & its supply chain. I "retired" a year ago to work on a book and also have been consulting with tech companies helping them find new markets.

I still work with <client of mine> and have bandwidth for 1 or 2 more clients in 2010 and am talking to the folks in the region who see companies in need of help. I was hoping to meet and share notes on what's going on. (note: this is my offer to help)

Look forward to hearing from you,

Allan Bacon
